

Let's Play Earth Month Bingo!

How many of these activities can you do to help our Mother Earth?

I got outside to show Mother Earth some love by visiting a local park.	I picked up litter in my neighborhood.	When leaving a room, I turned off the light to save energy.	I biked or walked somewhere I would have normally driven.	No trees in toilets! I bought recycled-content toilet paper this month.
I created an Earth Day challenge for my friends to see who could pick up the most beach or roadside trash.	I pulled invasive weeds in my yard or at a socially distanced weed pull to help our native plants thrive!	I reduced my laundry impacts in one or more ways: cold water wash/hang dry/less frequent washing.	I used less paper this month by using or printing on second sides or printing less when I can.	I recycled my plastic bags/bubble wrap/air pillows/mailers at the grocery store plastic film bin.
I bought thrift or consignment clothes instead of new.	I bought ugly produce! Did you know that TONS of fruits and vegetables are dumped just because they are considered ugly?		I planted a pollinator-friendly plant or shrub to help pollinators, without which we would lose ¾ of all crops and flowers.	I planted--and hugged--a tree!
I visited the library or bookstore and got a science or nature book to learn more about our amazing planet.	I upcycled something from trash to treasure!	I brought my reusable water bottle with me.	I did a water audit at my house to evaluate use, check for leaks and reduce waste.	I shrank my diet's carbon footprint by buying or growing food locally.
I started or used a compost bin or yard waste service to reduce our waste-to-landfill.	I learned more about what we can and can't recycle in our community.	I included recycled content in packaging in my or my family's purchasing decisions.	I brought a reusable lunch container to school, work or the park instead of disposable.	I shared something I learned this month about the environment with a friend or family member!
